

Guidelines for Book Review Submission

The book review should be written in English and should be of 1500 to 2000 words in length. It should be composed of a summary of the contents of the book and a critical evaluation showing its relevance to specific areas of translation studies.

Please follow the guidelines in the revised 2023 stylesheet of New Voices.

The following details of the book reviewed should be provided:

- Book title in full
- Name of the author(s) /editor(s)
- Place and date of publication
- Name and address of the publisher
- Total number of pages
- ISBN number and price

All reviews should be submitted by first registering with New Voices and the uploading to the Book Review Section on the website: New Voices in Translation Studies (chula.ac.th) Reviewers may send us proposals to review books on specific themes or topics. Please contact the book review editors, Marija Todorova (marija.newvoices@gmail.com) Ruth Abou Rached (ruthnewvoices@gmail.com) if you have any enquiries, to discuss your proposals or find out whether the title selected is being reviewed.

Please note that, as specified in the Editorial Policy, preference will be given to contributions by researchers new to the field. However, contributions from more experienced researchers will also always be welcome.
